

Please do not permit those businesses such as banks and real estate firms to make unsolicited calls to customers with whom they have a business relationship. This dilutes the effectiveness of the Do-Not-Call legislation here in Indiana and does nothing to improve the business relationship. These businesses have other ways to communicate with me without interrupting my privacy and contacting me at inconvenient times such as the dinner hour (when the majority of such call activity occurs). I do not want the effectiveness of Indiana's legislation diluted in any way by overriding federal regulation. The Indiana legislation has been a blessing to the citizens of Indiana who have chosen to take advantage of it.
